IMPORTANT NEWS ABOUT YOUR DUES:

Due to recent federal legislation, the amount of dues that businesses pay to trade associations may no longer be 100 percent deductible from income taxes. The new law states that if any part of your dues is used to pay for lobbying, that part is not deductible from income taxes. ADAI estimates that twenty percent (20%) of your annual ADAI dues are related to lobbying expenses, which are non-deductible. For additional information, please contact your tax advisor.
